

Memorial Installation Arundel Cathedral

Entering the tranquillity and stillness of the Cathedral at Arundel, the ethereal atmosphere is intensified by the confrontation of an apparitional vision. A visitor beholds a striking installation of seated silhouettes either side of the Nave. Each of these figures are individually identified from the Memorial Wall. The photo depicts the impression where the silhouettes on the south side of the Nave, are 'haloed' by a shaft of sunlight facilitating the photography.

An intensely moving memorial to the centenary year of the ending of WW1.

The Cathedral of Our Lady and St Philip Howard.
